

City of Carlsbad Real Estate Sign Rules

Real estate signs in Carlsbad are allowed on private property, with the permission of the owner, but not on public property, including streets, sidewalks and the city's "right-of-way."

What is the "Right-of-Way?"

Right-of-way is any public street, sidewalk, easement or similar public property owned or controlled by the city and dedicated to public use. Typically, the public right-of-way extends 10' from face of curb.

Why we limit signs

The City of Carlsbad understands that signs are considered an important tool for marketing real estate. Our sign rules are in place primarily to:

- Protect public safety
Signs placed on sidewalks and in street medians pose a hazard to drivers and pedestrians. Excessive signage can make important traffic and safety signs harder to see.
- Support freedom of speech
This includes the people's right to express political, religious and other noncommercial messages on their property.
- Maintain community character
Signs and other visual clutter detract from the community's visual appeal.

Why can't real estate signs be an exception?

Local government sign regulations must be "content-neutral" to comply with the First Amendment. In other words, local governments may place regulations on the "time, place and manner" in which signs are displayed, but may not restrict or allow signs based on their message.

This means that the city may not single out certain categories of commercial signage to be allowed on public property. If all businesses were allowed to place signs on public property, the visual character of the city would be significantly degraded and hazards to pedestrians and vehicles would result.

Enforcement

- Commercial signs, including real estate signs, in the right-of-way will be picked up by city staff.
- Signs can be retrieved by scheduling an appointment with the Code Enforcement Division at 442-339-2703 or codeenforcement@carlsbadca.gov. Appointments are available on the first and third Wednesday of the month, between 9 and 10 a.m. at The Faraday Center, 1635 Faraday Ave., Carlsbad.
- Please bring a form of identification, such as a business card or driver's license when picking up your signs.
- As of Sept. 1, 2023, a fee of $26 for the first sign removed, and fee of $5 for any subsequent sign(s) removed, will be assessed each day that a sign is removed from the public right-of-way. Signs must be picked up within 30 days of removal or they will be disposed.
